Saskatchewan

Revised labour force numbers released today by Statistics Canada show employment growth in Saskatchewan is even stronger than first reported last week.

There are 8,700 more people working in Saskatchewan than a year ago. Saskatchewan's employment growth rate of 1.5 per cent is second-highest in Canada and above the national growth rate of 0.9 per cent.

Saskatchewan's unemployment rate is just 3.2 per cent (seasonally adjusted) – the lowest unemployment rate ever recorded since Statistics Canada began keeping this statistic in 1976. Saskatchewan's unemployment rate is less than half the national rate of 7.0 per cent – the lowest rate in Canada and lower than 49 of 50 U.S. states.

“We are very pleased that Saskatchewan's unemployment rate continues to be the lowest in Canada in the re-release of July's Labour Force Survey,” Associate Minister of the Economy Jeremy Harrison said. “It is clear that Saskatchewan's economy continues to shine on the national stage, where we are outpacing the majority of provinces when it comes to jobs and opportunities.”

STRONG AUGUST LAND SALES BRINGS IN $48 MILLION

With $48.4 million in revenue raised at Saskatchewan's August sale of petroleum and natural gas rights, the 2014 calendar year total for land sales is now $158 million, already surpassing land sale revenue totals for both the 2012 and 2013 calendar years with two sales remaining.

Industry continues to place a premium on Saskatchewan oil and gas rights. The average price per hectare received for the sale was $1,916/hectare, the third highest on record. The April 2008 sale holds the title for highest average price per hectare for a single sale at $2,725/hectare, followed closely by the February 2008 sale at $2,495/hectare.

“The Bakken and Shauanvon light-oil plays in southern Saskatchewan are both prone to spectacular single-parcel results that we experienced once again in this sale,” Economy Minister Bill Boyd said. “However, we're equally pleased about land acquisitions in the heavy oil-prone areas of the province that are consistent in sale-after-sale, year-after-year.”

BACK TO SCHOOL!

I hope teachers and students have enjoyed a wonderful summer and are excited to get back to the classroom. I remind motorists to be extra careful in our school zones as youngsters sometimes don't look before crossing the street. Enjoy the last week of summer!

SASKATOON'S ENVIRONMENTAL HEALTH & SUSTAINABILITY

The first edition of Our Environment: The City of Saskatoon's Environmental Leadership Report has been released. The report provides an overview of Saskatoon's environmental health and establishes baselines for the strategies and priorities identified under the City's Strategic Goal of Environmental Leadership.

"Our citizens value a healthy environment and as Saskatoon continues to grow, there will be corresponding pressures on our land, air, water and waste,” says Ian Loughran, Energy & Sustainability Engineering Manager. “Raising awareness of the overall condition of our environment and our progress toward sustainability will help us all make informed decisions and choices to reduce the negative impacts on our environment.”

GOVERNMENT OF SASKATCHEWAN SUPPORTS BACK TO SCHOOL CAMPAIGN

Education Minister Don Morgan joined Salvation Army volunteers and several Regina area MLAs at The Salvation Army Haven of Hope Ministries today to help fill backpacks with donated school supplies in support of The Salvation Army's annual Back to School Campaign.

"Back to school is an exciting time for Saskatchewan students, unfortunately not all families can afford to buy the required school supplies for their children," Morgan said. "Thanks to efforts of the Salvation Army's Back to School Campaign, more students will come to class ready to learn on their first day of school."

Between the donated supplies and the $663 in cash contributions from our building staff, we were able to provide school supplies for about 150 children who would have otherwise had none for their first day of school.
