PREMIER DOUG FORD AND PREMIER SCOTT MOE AGREE TO FIGHT FEDERAL CARBON TAX

Premiers will work together to stop federal government from imposing an oppressive tax on the people of their provinces.

SAINT ANDREWS, NEW BRUNSWICK – Ontario Premier Doug Ford and Saskatchewan Premier Scott Moe released a joint statement about their discussions at the summer meeting of the Council of the Federation:

“We agreed today to join forces and use every single tool at our disposal to challenge the federal government’s authority to arbitrarily impose a carbon tax on the people of Ontario and Saskatchewan.

Carbon taxes make life unaffordable for families, and put thousands of jobs at risk. This type of taxation does nothing for the environment and hits people in the wallet in order to fund big government initiatives.

We agreed that, in a time of economic uncertainty, we need to put more money back in the pockets of families and businesses. A climate change strategy is critical, but a carbon tax would increase the price of virtually every product and service people need on a daily basis.

We will do everything in our power, including going to court, to prevent the federal government from imposing this punishing tax on hard-working people. That is why Ontario will be supporting Saskatchewan and intervening in the reference case Saskatchewan has launched with its Court of Appeal. Ontario and Saskatchewan agree that the federal government should not be able to impose a carbon tax on provinces. The federation needs to work more collaboratively.

We look forward to continuing to work together, and with our fellow premiers, to create good jobs and drive economic growth across the country.”

REMINDER - PLEASE LET ME KNOW IF YOUR CHILDREN WOULD LIKE TO PARTICIPATE IN THE SASKATOON EXHIBITION DAY PARADE

The Exhibition Day Parade will be held Tuesday, August 7th at 10:00 am. Once again, Saskatoon Willowgrove will have an entry in the parade. We will be riding on an antique fire truck owned by Ken Sawatsky. I invite you to join me to ride on the firetruck!

Approximately 100 entries wind through downtown Saskatoon beginning at 10 am from 24th Street and Spadina Crescent East. The parade is always a lot of fun for the kids as they wave to the hundreds of people that line the streets.

If your children are interested in riding along with me, email ken.cheveldayoff.mla@sasktel.net with your contact information and we'll get back to you with details. Please let me know as soon as possible as space is limited.

CONSTRUCTION REMAINS ON SCHEDULE FOR $60.6 MILLION OVERPASS PROJECT

The Government of Saskatchewan announced today the $60.6 million overpass project at Martensville and Warman remains on schedule. The project is designed to improve safety for two of Saskatchewan's fastest-growing communities.

"The growth in Martensville and Warman is phenomenal, and we are pleased to see the overpass construction progressing so well," Highways and Infrastructure Minister David Marit said. "We are looking forward to getting this project completed to improve traffic flow and safety for people getting home or to work."

"The safety of motorists is important to us and we're reminding daily commuters that Main Street will be closed for a month," Martensville Mayor Kent Muench said. "This will allow for the completion of the east abutment, providing access to the new bridge."

With approximately 14,400 vehicles per day on Highway 12, the new interchange at Martensville will disperse traffic along Main Street and Centennial Drive, reducing congestion and providing safer access to current and future developments.

PROVINCIAL PHYSICIAN RECRUITMENT AGENCY MOVING TO SASKATCHEWAN HEALTH AUTHORITY

Saskatchewan is taking steps to ensure that access to physician services continues to be a high priority, particularly in rural and remote communities.

The Physician Recruitment Agency of Saskatchewan will transition to the Saskatchewan Health Authority (SHA) on July 23. The agency focuses on recruitment and retention of physicians and health care professionals in Saskatchewan and uses the saskdocs and HealthCareersinSask websites as tools to connect them with current opportunities in the province.

This transition will build on saskdocs' good work, helping align recruitment efforts with the SHA's physician resource planning and ensure that physicians are practising in communities where they are most needed.

To facilitate continuity and ongoing connections with key partners, a number of current board members will have the opportunity to continue serving in an advisory capacity following the transfer - a further example of the province's commitment to recruitment and retention efforts.

"People in rural, northern, and urban communities throughout the province continue to have better access to physician care," Rural and Remote Health Minister Greg Ottenbreit said. "The efforts of saskdocs, along with other recruitment and retention initiatives introduced by our government, have resulted in 900 more licensed doctors and 3,700 more nurses in Saskatchewan than in 2007."

REVIEW YOUR PENSION INVESTMENTS

The Financial and Consumer Affairs Authority (FCAA) wants to remind people who contribute to a defined contribution (DC) pension plan to review their pension investments in a DC plan, employees typically decide how their money is invested, so it's important to stay informed and make suitable investment choices.

“Be comfortable with your investment decisions and the level of risk involved,” Director of FCAA’s Pensions Division Leah Fichter said. “Choose the investment strategy that is best for you, since retirement income is impacted by how well your investments perform.”

Pension Investment Tips:

1. Review your pension investments periodically. Your pension statement will let you know which funds your money is invested in and how well they are doing through investment earnings.
2. Make sure they are the right fit for you. Make sure you are comfortable with your pension investments. Many plans offer a selection of funds, so it's important to know your options. Consider the length of time to your retirement to choose the most suitable investment option for you. Some plans have funds which automatically adjust investments to safer investments as you age; this option might be ideal for some people.

3. Talk to your pension plan administrator. If you are unsure and have questions, contact your plan administrator who will help you find the resources you need.

SUMMER LITERACY CAMPS TEACH A LIFE-LONG LOVE OF READING IN STUDENTS

Summer literacy camps are well underway for more than 1,200 students across the province. These camps encourage students to continue reading over the summer months while having fun and interactive learning experiences. “These camps instill a life-long love of reading in children with a focus on First Nations and Métis students,” Deputy Premier and Minister of Education Gordon Wyant said. “The camps maintain and enhance the literacy skills students learned during the school year and help prepare them for classes in the fall.”

The camps are meant to be culturally relevant and have visits from parents and Elders to lead activities and support a community-based approach to learning. At the end of the camp, students are encouraged to further develop their literacy skills by taking home the books they read to continue building a love of reading.

ADDITIONAL GRANTS FOR ADULT LEARNERS ENROLLING IN POST-SECONDARY EDUCATION

Student Financial Assistance for Adult Learners

Did you know?
Adult learners with dependant children may be eligible for additional money and grants.

New this year:

Full-time students who have been out of high school for at least 10 years may receive $200/month in additional grant money.	Students can access grants-only funding and decline the loans portion.

saskatchewan.ca/studentloans

Students enrolling in post-secondary studies after several years away from school are eligible to access all student loan and grant programs through the Canada-Saskatchewan Integrated Student Loan program. There are new features to the program that help eligible adult learners pay for post-secondary education.

These include:

- $200 per month in additional grant money for full-time students who have been out of high school for at least 10 years;
- A person who has lost their job or experienced a drop in income may qualify for additional assistance and may have their current income used to assess Canada Student Grant eligibility; and
- Ability to request grants-only funding and decline the loans portion.

“Our government understands that returning to post-secondary education after several years away can be challenging,” Advanced Education Minister Tina Beaudry-Mellor said. “We hope that these additional grants and features will make it easier for adult learners to pursue post-secondary education.”

There are also additional features to the Canada-Saskatchewan Integrated Student Loan program to benefit adult learners with dependants.

- Full-time or part-time students with dependant children may be eligible for monthly living allowances based on their income and the number and age of their children, which will include a monthly allowance for daycare. These students may also receive additional grants for being students with dependants; and
- Students with children do not have to make the fixed student contribution.

Students can now submit their student financial assistance applications for the 2018-19 student loan year for academic programs beginning on or after August 1, 2018. Students are encouraged to apply early.

More information on Saskatchewan Student Loans can be found at www.saskatchewan.ca/studentloans or by calling 1-800-597-8278.

YEAR-END ACTUALS SHOW SASKATCHEWAN'S FINANCES ARE CONTINUING TO IMPROVE

Deficit Drops by $393 Million in 2017-18 Public Accounts Compared to 2017-18 Budget

The final results for the 2017-18 fiscal year show a significant drop in Saskatchewan’s deficit. The province finished the year with revenue of $14.02 billion and total expense of $14.32 billion—leaving a deficit of $303 million.

“Our government’s plan to return the province to balance by 2019-20 remains on track,” Finance Minister Donna Harpauer said. “Our economy is growing and the province’s fiscal position continues to improve, with an actual deficit of $303 million in 2017-18, $393 million less than what was projected in the 2017-18 Budget.”

Revenue in 2017-18 was down $146 million, or one per cent, from the budget. The decrease was primarily due to lower-than-expected tax revenue and transfers from the federal government, offset by higher net income from government business enterprises, other own-source revenue and non-renewable resource revenue.

STATS CANADA NUMBERS SHOW STRONG TOURISM GROWTH IN SASKATCHEWAN

Saskatchewan's tourism sector made significant gains in 2017.

Visits to and within the province by Canadians increased by 9.4 per cent from 2016, placing Saskatchewan well ahead of Canada's overall growth rate of 2.1 per cent. Visitor expenditures showed even higher growth, with a jump of 10.4 per cent. Canadian visitors, including Saskatchewan residents travelling within the province, spent $1.88 billion in 2017.

"We are delighted by the growth in the province's tourism sector in the domestic market," Minister Responsible for Tourism Saskatchewan Gene Makowsky said. "Saskatchewan has an abundance of attractions and beautiful natural scenery, and it is good to see visitors from Canada discovering what we in Saskatchewan have always known."
